A large gathering attended the first public meeting at the newly reconstructed Old Court House building, Appomattox National Historical Park. Seen above on stage are Gordon C. Graham, Sound-and-Light expert who addressed county, regional, and state officials about the possibilities of a Sound-and-Light program for Appomattox. With him are Mrs. W. W. Burke, RAD Centennial committee chairman and RAD committee chairman Dr. J. A. Mathews. The group named a steering committee which has set up additional meetings to pursue the project further.

Appomattox Centennial May Have $250,000 Sound & Light Drama

A meeting called by the RAD Centennial Committee on Wednesday, April 22, at the newly reconstructed Old Court House gave promise of leading to the development of a "Sound and Light" program for April of 1965 to commemorate the historic events of Appomattox in April, 1865.

Present for the meeting were county, regional and state representatives. They decided by unanimous vote to consider seriously a "sound and light" production — a new type of outdoor dramatic production using taped sound and lights rather than live actors — to depict historical events at old Appomattox.

The ten-member steering committee will meet next on Sunday, May 2, at Lynchburg College to proceed further. Other meadquarters have been set up for the RAD Centennial Committee at the Bank of Appomattox in Appomattox, to house files of material on sound and light and to provide a meeting place for various sub committees working on the project.

Expert Addresses Meeting

D. Gordon Graham, a sound and light expert and vice-president of LumaDrama, who worked with the Independence Hall, Philadelphia sound and light program, spoke to the group Wednesday. He estimated the initial cost of beginning the production at $250,000, only costs thereafter, he said, would be the salaries of the persons operating the tape recording and light equipment, and relatively small incidental expenses. Admission fees would defray expenses over a period of years.

Graham said that a field in the northwest of Meeks Store, in the Park, could be utilized to seat the audience. The Park "couldn't have been better planned" for sound and light, said Graham. He said that lights could be placed on Meeks' Store, on the fields surrounding, on the McLean House and other historic buildings. He suggested that with "the very best actors and an imaginative script and well placed loud speakers such things as the marching of the last weary Confederate soldiers, individual citizens complaining of short food supplies, the last campfires of the defeated army, and taps blowing across the fields could leave each spectator "feeling as if you were a part of history". He describes "sound and light" productions as "an emotional experience."

There are a number of sound and light productions in Europe, but only two in the nation —at St. Augustine, Florida, and Independence Hall, Philadelphia.

Planned for 1965

As proposed, the program would begin in conjunction with the centennial observance of the April 9, 1965 surrender of the confederate army, and would take place nightly from spring to early fall.

It would be sponsored by a private, non-profit group, not yet formed.

Dr. J. A. Mathews, Rural Area Development Committee chairman, said an RAD committee under the direction of Mrs. William Burke has been studying two alternatives — a pageant and a sound-and-light production, with the committee favoring sound-and-light.

Representative Watkins M. Abbitt, unable to be present for the meeting, sent a message stating "enthusiastic endorsement" of the proposal.

D. Gordon Graham, described by Mrs. Burke as a man with a "good sense of humor and a gambling spirit" is a veteran of 25 years with the Columbia Broadcasting System, as a director, writer and producer. He has been associated with the Lincoln Center of Performing Arts, New York, and worked with LumaDrama and the development of the first sound-light program at Phila., "The American Story".

Graham urged extensive publicity for the production. He told the group that a national public relations program should cause the sound-and-light production here to be a "fulfillment, not a surprise" to the nation. "You can expect more visitors," he said, and "it's the nature of a sound-and-light production (since it's seen only after dark) that people will choose to spend the night nearby."

Honor Club Adds Seven Members

The 4-H Honor Club of Appomattox met on April 23, 1964 at the Home Demonstration office. The purpose of this meeting was to initiate seven 4-Her's, who have done outstanding 4-H Club work, into the Honor Club.

The initiation consisted of walking around twelve, raw eggs while blind-folded and playing a game called 'Pinchy-Punchy".

A serious initiation followed the gay one. The president, Joe Terry, explained the purpose of the Honor Club and the requirements of its members. Vice-president Jimmy Martin explained the Honor Club emblem. A candlelighting service followed the awarding of certificates to the new members: Joan Lucado, Peggy Morris, Spud Almond, Audrey Inge, Kathy Davis, Beth Massey, and Mamie Painter. The four "H"s' 'of the 4-H pledge were explained by Norman Jones Julia Guill, Frances Reeves, and Lina Trent.

New officers were elected: President, Norman Jones, vice-President, Lina Trent; secretary Julia Anne Guill; reporter, Joan Lucado; song leader, Beth Massey.

Hazel Moon Circle Will Conduct WMU Program

Woman's Missionary Union of Liberty Baptist Church will have its monthly meeting Wednesday evening, May 6th at 7 p.m.

The topic for the program is "Baptist Missions of Argentine, Chile, Paraguay and Uruguay" — The Hazel Moon Circle will have charge of program with Mrs. Jacob Lewis as program leader.

Committee Thanks Local People

The RAD Centennial committee has announced that a number of people have aided the committee in playing host to C. Gordon Graham, representative of Sound and Light dramas, and the guests invited from Appomattox and other counties to discuss the possibilities of a Sound and Light production here.

Coffee Hour at Court House

The Junior Woman's Club of Appomattox provided coffee cakes, brownies, and cookies for the coffee hour last Wednesday afternoon. West End Market provided coffee, plates, cups, and napkins. Mrs. Robert Hubbard brought flower arrangements and took care of the table setting. Cole's Dairy provided the cream.

Traveler's Inn provided a room for Mr. Graham for the entire week he stayed in Appomattox. Mickey's Hot Shoppe furnished him meals.

The Bank of Appomattox has host for a dinner Wednesday evening to which Mr. Graham and committee members were invited.

The Bank of Appomattoxhas provided office space on the second floor of the Bank Building for the RAD Centenial Committee. The county School Board represented by Superintendent Earl Smith has furnished the office with desk, chairs, and table. The Committee is asking readers to furnish them with copies of writeups about the Sound and Light and other Centennial projects cut from newspapers other than the TIMES - VIRGINIAN. They particularly need, right now, copies of last week's newspaper write-ups to mail to various individuals and for office records.

Secretarial work for the RAD Committee in setting up the Court House meeting was furnished in part by Mrs. Barbara Cawthorne, Mrs. Gwendolyn Franklin, Mrs. Lilly Sperry, Mrs. June Chenault, and Miss Kitty Lou O'Brien.

Scout Circus Saturday, 7:30 P.M.

Two- thousand Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers from the 14 county area of the Piedmont Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, will be performing in the council's Boy Scout Circus it was announced today by Nat Friedman, American Heritage Scout Circus Program Chairman

There will be eight main acts and six in-between-acts so that there is a continuous performance going on. There will be no professional entertainment. It will be an all boy show

The show will be held May 2nd, in the Lynchburg City Stadium, Lynchburg, from 7:30 p. m. to 9:30 p.m.

Cub Cowns, Koshore Indian Dancing, Chariot Races, will add color, excitement, and laughter to the show as they perform between the eight main acts. Mr. Friedman emphasized that the theme of the Scout Circus is American Heritage, was tied in with a Freedoms Foundation program for Scouting to encourage in the youth an appreciation and understanding of their American Heritage. He said, three acts will portray the founding and growth of this country and three acts will demonstrate Scoutings role in preparing the youth for living now and for the future in the areas of physical fitness, Scouting skills, and religious faith.

The show is open to the general public. Tickets can be purchased from any Cub Scout, Boy Scout or Explorer, or at the ticket window at the stadium May 2nd.

Council Approves Final Plans For Sewage Lagoon Project

Town Council, meeting Wednesday, April 22, approved final plans for a proposed sewage lagoon for Appomattox, an addition to the present 20 year old sewerage plant. Creed Elliott, representing Hankins and Anderson, the engineering firm which drew up the plans, said Wednesday, "As far as I know, we're ready to build." He suggested that the project be divided into three parts since the Council had previously stated that part of the work may be done by town workmen.

Council approved a motion to hire the excavation of the lagoon site, by the hour; to have a contrator do the necessary cement work, and other construction work either by bid, flat fee, or cost plus basis, and then to have the Town hire workmen to lay connector lines. Hankins and Anderson will give some on the site supervision.

Elliott estimated total cost of the lagoon, plus one type of recommended fence at approximately $37,000 - $40,000. He suggested that construction begin in about a month. "As far as I know, we're ready to build," he told Council.

Land for the lagoon was purchased on the north side of 460 from E. O. Johnson. It has been estimated that about 25 per cent of the present users of the existing sewage facilities will be diverted to the new lagoon.

Council also adopted temporarily the first draft of a Subdivision Ordinance, subject to conferences with the County Board of Supervisors, plus a public hearing.

Public Invited To Hear Agric. Commissioner

The Virginia Department of Agriculture Commissioner and Staff will hold a meeting at 9:30 a.m., May 5, at Holiday Inn, Lynchburg.

The functions of the Department will be explained, and the meeting will then be open to the public for a question - answer session and information on topics of interest to farmers.

Urges Mama To "Get In Act"

Dr. Francis Clements, county health director, urged the mothers of pre-school children to have their pre - school children vaccinated against small pox (a legal requirement for entering school), and then to follow this up with DPT innoculation plus typhoid, and polio protection, also.

Smallpox vaccination may be done by the family physician or the County Health Department physicians, said Dr. Clements in speeches made at Pre-School registration throughout the county. He announced plans for Pre-School clinics for the county. He urged each mother "to get into the act" and show her children how easy and painless a smallpox vaccination is, by rolling up her sleeve and having a vaccinator do for small pox what the same time. "Set a good example," he urged, "and do your part to keep the county healthy."

Wheat Growers To Meet Friday
